

Begin to feel a connection to your own inner goddess. Awaken an appreciation for your true feminine self. Connect with a community of like-minded women.

Horses create a sacred space within. Allow yourself to be vulnerable and open to the possibility of seeing who it is you truly are.

What you will gain is a better understanding of who you are and your place in this world. Acquire tools to help you facilitate your own personal opening to grace.

Throughout the day you will experience the joy and power of connection to the rhythm of the drum, meditations and interacting with the horses in a one-on-one setting. All exercises with the horse are done on-ground so no previous horse experience is necessary. No past experience with drums is necessary.
